WHERE THERE IS VISION

"EACH ONE OF US is alone in the world. He is shut in a tower of brass and can communicate with his fellows only by signs, and the signs have no common value, so that their sense is vague and uncertain. We seek pitifully to convey to others the treasures of our hearts, but they have not the power to accept them, and so we go on, side by side but not together, unable to know our fellows and unknown by them. We are like people living in a country whose language they know so little that, with all manner of beautiful and profound things to say, they are condemned to the banalities of the conversation manual. The brain is seething with ideas, and they can only tell you that the umbrella of the gardener's aunt is in the house."

Some persons realize that they are living, largely, in superficialities and seek, by cultivating the companionship of sincere people and beautiful things, to open up vistas of expansion for their deeper selves. They are the thinkers, the dreamers, the idealists—writers, artists, musicians and reformers. But to those possessing no natural craving for creation [and in this category belong a majority of those composing our national life] the vision comes rarely or not at all.

The truth is, every soul responds to the consciousness of beauty but the crust of common things so covers up the sweetness and the richness underneath this busy, modern life of ours that the fragrance is seldom sensed at all—and much is lost.

Not-with-standing that this God blessed mountain home of ours is the veritable home of Beauty herself, how often we go about our humdrum daily tasks with never a thought of the incomparable treasures of climate, mountain, trees—yes, even cursing our lot because in the meanness and squalor of our intimate surroundings—the struggle for existence—the enjoyment of our heaven sent beauty is lost.

If we could only "walk in beauty" all the time, in our homes, our stores, our streets, our hostelries, our thoughts, we should without question gain gifts of happiness now unpossessed. One home that is lovely, lovable and given to gracious hospitality may guide many persons along the road where they shall "find themselves"—beautiful schools working with, supplementing and complementing beautiful homes, beautiful in appearance, in thought, in ideals, in contact, in co-operation, is a real goal, a guiding star—and one hotel that achieves a perfect harmony between bodily ministry and soul-satisfaction may mean a miracle in thousands of lives every day.

For those of you who refuse to sense the vision, you worshipers of concrete, square corners and vivid paint, tree destroyers, let us say to you that for us of the San Lorenzo valley at least, it is good business, the only procedure, in fact, that will maintain even the present status, let alone future material growth. For it is what the seekers of beauty, of soul-satisfaction desire that we must provide, not what we in our own provincialism and narrowness think is the thing and otherwise we perish. And that this is without argument is a fact many times proven. The Southern Pacific and other great corporations, not particularly noted for reckless dissipation of money, have spent millions on beautiful gardens, club houses, artistic advertising, architectural gems, et cetera and for only one reason, it is GOOD BUSINESS.

So stands the Mission Inn in Riverside, a wonderful tavern in a wonderful land, though not comparable with our own. And this Mission Inn is not only picturesque but modern. Such things as this we might have, we must have.

—oOo—

An ideal home, a modern cottage, a harmonious blend of home-like architecture and woodland environs arranged and furnished with artistry and grace, tended by skilled, intelligent and sympathetic hands, imbued with the spirit of home, breathing forth true ideals of womanhood and manhood—what such would mean in the lives of our girls and boys is incalculable.

Such a home stands on the High School campus, potentially—the chief elements are there. It is a glimpse of the vision.

—oOo—

If you have ever been to the Mission Inn you will remember the patio with the Clock Tower. You may have spent a day or a week there. It has all been very wonderful. The spirit of the place has gotten into your being, the spirit of this Inn that Frank A. Miller has erected as his painting of "the thing as he sees it" for the "God of Things as they are." You have passed thru the colonades of arches which lead to the affairs of life in your own every day sphere, the impressions which will endure for the enrichment of your memories and the strengthening of your ideals still fresh in your consciousness, then perhaps you have as have others, glanced up at the Clock Tower and seen these words emblazoned underneath:—"Where there is no vision the people perish." [Proverbs 29-18, the Bible] Let us paraphrase or optimize and say:—where there IS vision, people live indeed.

—oOo—

What a vision of visions would it not be for the girls and boys who would come under the influence of such a home as that visioned. What a vision of the possibilities in the possession of such a home! What a vision of ideals held firm and realized, of beauty utilized, of comfort, taste and personality expressed!

May the vision be realized for our girls and boys, the citizens of tomorrow.

SCOTTS VALLEY FAIR.

SPLENDID EXHIBITS FROM SAN LORENZO VALLEY

San Lorenzo Valley Farm Bureau Center won eighteen first prizes for its exhibits at the Scotts Valley Fair, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week.

The Fair was a splendid success and given as it was under the auspices of the Farm Bureau Centers, nine in number, every one participating in the event has good reason to feel proud of the exhibit as a whole, the experience from its promotion being a guarantee that next year's effort will outclass the first in every way because more people will want to see it and more people will want to be a part of it as exhibitors.

About four thousand people attended the fair and the majority of them showed much interest in and surprise in some instances to know that it was possible to produce such fine products, chickens, hogs, cows, horses, fruits, etc., as were on exhibition thruout the three days of the fair.

The San Lorenzo Valley exhibit from Ben Lomond, Boulder Creek and communities was a wonderful collection of farm products and when it comes to apples its doubtful if there is another section in this state that can compete with the Ben Lomond region in the production of fruit of such exceptional quality.

The San Lorenzo prize winners were as follows:-

Fruits and other farm produce:-

Boulder Creek:-H Hesse, 3 first, 1 1, nd and 1 third. D. Monerief, 1 first and 1 second. A. Carlson, 1 first. F. Brimblecom, 1 first. C. Schroeder, 1 second. N. Pierini, 1 first and 1 second.

Ben Lomond:-Elisha Brooks, 7 first, 1 second and 1 third. W. H. Bartlett, 1 first and 1 second. W. A. Guichard, 3 second. J. M. Hunt 2 first, 1 second and 1 third. F. Lajeunesse 1 first and 1 third. Mrs. J. Kober 1 third.

There was also given to the San Lorenzo Valley Farm Center, first prize for the best general display of Fancy Work, the prize consisting of a beautiful Axminster Rug.

NEWS AND COMMENT

The student who in a list of questions on current events fixed Premier Lloyd George as "King of Erin" not only got his Georges mixed but he also figured as an unconscious humorist of the first water.

Community Mention

Mr. Robert Booth has sold his home on Central avenue to Mr. Belamy of Boulder Creek. Mr. Booth will move closer in and continue the grain business.

Dr. Parker's new residence at the south end of town is progressing in construction. It is a pleasing addition to the community and we hope it is only one of many new homes to be erected in this neighborhood.

There will be preaching service in the Methodist church both morning and evening Sunday. This will be the last Sunday that Mr. Withrow, the present pastor, will be here.

Next week is the teachers' Institute week and the schools will be closed. A goodly number of the pupils will take advantage of the vacation to make a little extra money picking grapes.

Mrs. W. H. Purinton and her son Wilton moved into their new home at Harmon Park last Monday. For the past week they have been visiting Mrs. Purinton's sister, Mrs. E. T. Johnson. Wilton is a Junior in High School and the past year attended the Stockton High. Mr. Purinton is now in business at Mono Lake, but expects to join the family at Harmon Park about Christmas.

PERSONALS

Mr. Jackson of Oakland and Miss Mignon Harman from So. San Francisco spent the week end here.

Mr. James Stagg is taking care of the father of Mrs. C. De Lapp who is ill at the De Lapp residence.

Vernon Tirelker, a former truck driver of Boulder Creek, but now of San Jose, spent Saturday and Sunday here visiting friends. He returned home with Bill Gunzenhaur who came over in his machine also to visit friends.

Mrs. J. E. Aram from Coalinga who has been caring for Mrs. J. H. Aram, left for her home Tuesday. Mrs. J. H. Aram's health is slowly improving.

Harry Pearce is now working for the Waters Brothers Store.

IMPROVEMENT CLUB MEETS

Last Monday evening, the meeting of the B. C. I. C. was again called to order by vice president Gordon in the absence of president Withrow.

One feature of the meeting was the number of members present and another feature was the adding of four new names to the roll of membership.

A committee was appointed to be present at the next meeting of the Board of County Supervisors and present with emphasis, the desires and determination of the people of the valley to save the trees on the highway at the entrance to the town of Boulder Creek.

The committee named is composed of Dr. R. B. Hoag, chairman, Dr. Parker, Mrs. Anthony and Mrs. Livermore.

The Club voted to adopt and use the slogan "Boulder Creek, the Gateway to Big Basin."

W. H. Nicholson, of Bon Lomond, representing the Farm Bureau Center, will speak at the meeting next Monday evening on the agricultural and horticultural possibilities of the San Lorenzo Valley as indicated by the Fair.

A social time some evening in the near future was discussed, following a show by Mr. Sweeney.

The Secretray again calls attention to the payment of dues in arrears.

Laborious Methods of Getting "Flow" of Oil From the Rich Wells of Mandalay.

Oil lands above Mandalay are so rich and the oil so close to the surface that you see here and there among the scaffolding forest of steaming, drilling derricks a hole, hand dug and yawning, and at its mouth a breast-high cross-pole carrying a creaking wooden wheel. A long rope attached to a cumbersome bucket plays over this wheel as four or five coolie women "haul away" over a foot-hardened path fifty yards long. Back and forth, in and away, they trudge in the baking Burman sunshine; up and down goes the oil bucket; and, by degrees, fuller and fuller get the big round earthen pots beside the well that holds the day's "flow."

These wells are dug by suspended coolies, who loosen and pass up the debris fifty, eighty, a hundred feet from the soft sandstone earth and shale. It goes on, antlike, with incredible labor for almost a microscopic wage. Many of them, however, like the pitcher of Philamon and Baucis, year after year, produce the rich black liquid, the heritage of the family who owned the spot. Compare these methods, time-honored but time outworn, with those of California and Texas oil fields, where machinery takes care of every minute process, and muscle has more joyful tasks to do.—Christian Science Monitor.

Bear Creek News

The three miles of new boulevard on Bear Creek was completed Wednesday. The residents celebrated the event by holding a wake at Nordville on that evening. Refreshments consisting of Polenta and Kickless Grape juice was served by the genial host George Nord.

Mr. Ed. Hearsey of San Jose and Mr. George Emig of Santa Clara, motored to the Eberhard Farm on Friday of last week. Mr. Emig, a retired banker from New York city, was much impressed with our beautiful mountains and contemplates locating here, which would be a great acquisition to the community.

Armandas Bollander of San Francisco, is spending a week's vacation with his uncle, George Nord.

Rowland Hill returned last Sunday from a two week's trip to Plumas county.

Mr. Edgar Smith motored from San Jose Sunday and spent the day at Apple Thorpe Farm.

A motor party composed of Oscar Eberhard, Andrew Bushley and Philip H. Kaiser of the Eberhard Tannery, motored to their summer home on Bear Creek Saturday. Mr. Kaiser is a recent arrival from Germany and will remain here for an indefinite time.

Mr. Mack Kato is entertaining as his house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bailey from Tia Juana.

SEQUOIA ITEMS

Mr. Guy Bingman recently motored up from Los Angeles on business connected with his ranch in Sequoia.

Mrs. Crawford spent the week end in Santa Cruz.

Construction of the three bridges on the Big Basin Road is progressing rapidly, one now being complete.

Send Community to distant friends, it is like a letter from home.

REV. WITHROW TO LEAVE

The Rev. C. F. Withrow returned to Boulder Creek Tuesday from the Methodist Conference which was held in San Jose during the last week. Mr. Withrow's new appointment for the ensuing year is Brentwood, Contra Costa county, where he will move with his family in the near future. Mr. Withrow's work here has been especially good and his many friends regret very much that he and his estimable family will no longer be a part of our community life. The best wishes of all go with them to their new home and the High School will greatly miss Anna's genial presence.

President's New Airedale Pup

Caswell Laddie Boy is the name of a blue-blooded Airedale pup presented to President Harding by a Toledo friend. He showed his pep immediately upon arrival by chasing a Wilson cat up a tree.

THE PIED PIPER

I Walked up the street this morning
But something seemed odd and strange. I looked at the houses around me
And wondered what made the change

No toys were strewn on the porches
No doll with its hair a-curl—
Where were the three Lucia children
And the little Roberts girl?
Old Touser dozed in the sunshine;
The mud pies crumbled away.

Where were John, Albert, and Evelyn
That they couldn't come to play?

So I asked wee Marjorie sitting
In her fence-enclosed space
Like a cast-away on an island
A lonesome look on her face

"What has become of my Francis?
I haven't seen Dorothy Mae."

With a wistful smile she answered,
They've all gone to cool today."

Why, school, of course, for September
Was here, and the Piper's call
Had sounded throughout the village,
Luring them on, one and all

With tales of a strange new teacher
A desk with ink in a well
Bright pencils and books and stories
And the top of a shinning bell

And the little lame boy of Hamlin
Who could follow the Piper no more
Was poor little Marjorie—left behind
Because she was only four.
